Core Dental Group Sleep Dentistry at Core Dental Carrum Downs Dental anxiety is far more common than most people realise. If the thought of sitting in a dental chair fills you with dread, you're not alone — and fear shouldn't have to stand between you and a healthy mouth. At Core Dental Group's Carrum Downs practice, sleep dentistry is designed to make treatment genuinely calm and comfortable, whatever level of anxiety you're dealing with.

What is sleep dentistry? Sleep dentistry uses sedation to help you relax fully during dental treatment. At Core Dental Group Carrum Downs, there are two proven options: IV Sedation — Delivered through a small intravenous line by a qualified sedation dentist with full anaesthetic support. You'll settle into a deeply relaxed, twilight state — still responsive, but feeling little to no discomfort. Most patients have little or no memory of the procedure once it's done. Happy Gas (Nitrous Oxide) — A mild inhaled sedative that produces a pleasant sense of relaxation through a comfortable nasal mask. It wears off quickly once the mask comes off, so you can often drive yourself home. It's a popular choice for patients with mild to moderate dental anxiety.

Who is sleep dentistry for? Sleep dentistry at Core Dental Group is available to a wide range of patients. Sedation may be worth considering if you: Feel significant fear or anxiety about dental visits Have a pronounced gag reflex Need multiple treatments done in a single visit Have had difficult dental experiences in the past Struggle to stay comfortable during longer procedures Have special needs that make conventional dental visits challenging

The practice is fully disability accessible, so every patient can get the care they need without unnecessary barriers. For busy families, the ability to combine sedation with comprehensive treatment means fewer appointments and less disruption to your routine. Parents who've had a positive experience under sedation often find it sets a reassuring example for their kids, too.
