The Case for Custom Mouthguards

When it comes to protecting teeth during sport, the Australian Dental Association is clear: custom-fitted mouthguards from your dentist are the only real option. Chemist "boil-and-bite" guards are generic, loose-fitting, and offer minimal protection when you need it most.

A custom mouthguard from Core Dental Glenferrie:

- Is made from precise digital or physical impressions of your own teeth
- Uses dual-laminate material to absorb and redirect impact force
- Stays firmly in place — no shifting mid-game
- Is low-profile and comfortable — easy to breathe and speak through
- Can be made in your favourite team's colours
- Starts from * — far less than the cost of repairing dental trauma

Knocked-out or fractured teeth can require crowns, implants, or orthodontic treatment. The cost of restoration far exceeds the cost of prevention.

The Glenferrie Location

Core Dental Glenferrie is Core Dental's first eastern suburbs location, purpose-built in a fully renovated 3-surgery clinic on Hawthorn's most prominent shopping strip, at the corner of Glenferrie Road and Barkers Road. This is a high foot-traffic location with excellent tram access and a strong local community of professionals, families, and students.

The inner east — Hawthorn, Kew, Camberwell, Balwyn, Surrey Hills, and Box Hill — has historically been underserved by the Core Dental network. Glenferrie changes that.

The Inner East Sporting Community

Glenferrie and the inner east are home to some of Melbourne's most historic and active sporting clubs:

- AFL — Hawthorn Football Club (home ground: UTAS Stadium; training: Waverley Park and surrounds); Camberwell Sharks and Kew Rovers in local competitions - Cricket — Hawthorn-Waverley Cricket Club; Kew Cricket Club; suburban district competitions - Soccer — Hawthorn Warriors FC; Kew FC; inner east junior soccer - Netball and basketball — Boroondara and Whitehorse associations - Tennis — Hawthorn Lawn Tennis Club; multiple clubs across the inner east - Hockey — Hawthorn Hockey Club; Camberwell Hawks - Martial arts — boxing, Muay Thai, BJJ, and karate studios across Hawthorn and Richmond - Cycling — Yarra trails, Gardiners Creek Trail, group rides
